- Highly desirable in a blend

- Excellent Value

A selection from Rutgers University breeding program, BONAIRE has exhibited above average turf quality, good establishment and moderate spring vigor.

Since BONAIRE is a “Shamrock” type, disease tolerances are moderate to good for leaf spot disease and stripe smut. Bonaire is an excellent replacement for the “BVMG” types, which are highly susceptible to rust. It has a medium dark green color and has excellent Rhizomatous development for sod production.

BONAIRE exhibits good seed production, which means that it will be readily available.
